Overview

Description
The next evolution of our wildly popular Razor line, the Razor HD Gen III 1-10x24 brings the highest level of first focal plane performance to those who demand the versatility of 1-10x power. Military, law enforcement, and competition shooters alike will love the clarity of an HD optical system and a crisp, illuminated reticle in a package that weighs the same as our 1-6x, but doesn't sacrifice any durability. A true 1x on the low end and daylight bright illumination for reliable performance in all conditions makes this a single solution for close-quarters and long-range.

One wish
I absolutely love my Razor. It took some training to get used to the eye box. Ended up just banding my furniture for cheek placement. However eye box issues aside which is a compromise people I think really need to understand about lpvo vs mpvo etc. This is an amazing peice of glass. I do believe Vortex in the next generation needs make it a x28. ...Read More

Best LPVO on the Market
Have had this optic for about six months now and am very satisfied with it. I accidentally torqued the scope mount on it down to 20 FOOT lbs instead of 20 INCH lbs like the instructions said to do. Even with that insane amount of pressure on the tube of the optic it still functions perfectly fine and has now signs of damage. Optic overall is built...Read More

Couldn't be happier
Finally finished a 14.5 PWS MK114 build and mounted this on a Badger Ordnance Condition One. It went on beautifully, adjusted my eye relief and within minutes was ringing steel.

Fantastic scope...Absolutely incredible service!!!
I was fortunate enough to score one of the U.S. assembled 1-10 gen IIIs, and let me tell you, it is Awesome! However, that's not the full story. For some reason mine didn't come with a sunshade. I spoke with jimmy and jim in customer care and they were able to get me one without batting an eye! Two really great guys and an amazing company. I can't...Read More

Fantastic Optic
I have two these on rifles I use for different purposes and it serves a multipurpose role extremely well. Glass and reticle are great. The size and weight of the optic for what you're getting is also very nice.
