WE BELIEVE

“Man has the right to enjoy the fruits of creation, and hunting is one of his ways and means. It is the oldest known skill, and if it is lost to him through neglect or emotion, or mistaken interpretation of the laws of nature, then man will be weakened. He will have lost one of his attributes. Man is a creature of his environment, and that was originally the wilderness. He has built cities and can fly around the moon, but if he forgets the art of survival as an individual in the bush, then he will lose his soul. He will become but a cog in a huge machine.”

HOLMAN DENNIS & RUNGREN ERIC 1969:
